

Attachment A

Home Based Wandering Response Systems

Home Based Wandering Response Systems are communication alert systems for consumers who are at risk for wandering. Consumers are outfitted with a device that transmits signals using technology such as GPS or radio frequency. The service includes 24/7 emergency response and location assistance in the event the participant wanders.