May - Mediterranean Diet

This month we wanted to create a menu involving some meals with a healthy diet plan. Since it is Mediterranean month we decided to use some recipes and designed the menu to have some different variety and flavor following this popular diet plan.

There will be three themed meals during the month.

Not every meal has this diet theme.

But why this Mediterranean diet? What is so healthy about this diet?

The Mediterranean diet is more than a "diet." It is a heart-healthy eating plan. For most people, what is good for your heart is good for your brain, and the rest of your body. The Mediterranean diet is shown to improve the effects of many different diseases and conditions. Studies have shown that it may reduce risk of cancer, dementia, type 2 diabetes and cardiovascular disease. In addition, it also may improve the well-being of those with asthma, weakness or frailty, heart arrhythmias, and depression.

What is the focus of the diet?

- Plant based, not meat based The foundation of the diet is vegetables and fruits. Moderate amount of dairy, poultry, seafood and eggs. Red meat is only eaten once a week.
- Healthy fats Olive oil and nuts are the main sources of fats in the diet. The diet includes more unsaturated fats and cuts out saturated and trans fats. The diet also focuses on lean meats and fish to further reduce fats.
- Balance your plate The foundation of the diet is fruits and vegetables and makes up half the plate. Limiting the amount of starchy vegetables (potatoes, corn, peas, & winter squash). There is a quarter of the plate should be 100% whole grains and the last quarter of the plate should be a lean protein.

Now this information just scratches the surface on the Mediterranean diet plan. There is much more information out there that could not fit on the back of the menu. If you are interested in reading more about the diet plan there are some links below.

- Mayoclinic.org and search Mediterranean diet for more information on the diet plan.
- Themediterraneandish.com for recipes & ideas on how to cook food in this style and pattern.

If you have questions after you read this or want more information about this eating plan, talk with your health care provider or a registered dietitian.

* New Program - Choice options for Home delivered meals *

Highland Valley has started a new program offering choice options for our member's receiving home delivered meals. Now you have an option of what you want to get for a main dish in your meal. Helping give you an option if you do not like what is served for the main course or if you might be allergic to the main course.

This will help you get a meal you want instead of canceling and possible going without a meal. We hope that this program will help increase the options for home bound members and help make sure no senior goes hungry.
